ABOUT THIS WINERY

Part of the Catena family of wines, High Note hails from the high elevations of the Uco Valley in Mendoza, Argentina. The wines are a blend of four different vineyards located at the foot of the Andes at 3,300 to 5,000 ft above sea level. Keeping true to Catena's quest to making high quality terroir-driven wines, the winemaker Leopoldo Kuschnaroff crafts wines reflective of the terroir from the four vineyards.

TASTING NOTES

Intense nose blackberry laced with spice fragrances, hints of blueberry. Barrel aging provides further complexity with delicate chocolate and vanilla flavors.

PRODUCT NOTES

High Note gets its name in reference to the altitude of the vineyards located high in the Andes Mountains of the Uco Valley. Mendoza lies in the foothills of the mountains and the vineyards range from 3,300-5,000 ft above sea level, which lends unique characteristics to the wine.

PRODUCTION NOTES

The grapes are fermented in stainless steel tanks with punchdowns and pumpovers during the alcoholic fermentation. The wine is aged in a mix of 50% French and 50% American oak, 25% of which is new for up to 9 months before bottling where it ages for a further 3 months.
