ABOUT THIS WINERY

After 15 years of travelling around the world as a terroir consultant, Pedro decided it was time to make wines that he likes to drink and to create a legacy for his family. He wanted to make pure terroir driven wines from granitic soils in and around his home of Concepción in the Itata Valley, South Central Chile. He is a leader in the 'New Chile' wine movement making wine in areas that were previously considered too extreme to make premium wine.

PRODUCT NOTES

Cinsault blend from 5 vineyards located in Guarilhue Alto. Vines are between 45-88 years old, dry-farmed with the gobelet system. Sandy to sandy silty granite. Around 22,000 bottles per year are made.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Fermented in oak tanks, concrete and open steel tanks. 100% whole cluster was applied. The wine was then aged in concrete and large oak casks for 1 year. Terroir is mix of 5 granite Vineyards in the area of Guarilhue Alto.
