ABOUT THIS WINERY

Jean-Marc Brocard's origins lie in the Côte d'Or, the son of a farmer from the village of Chaudenay-le-Château. It was an accident of marriage that brought him to wine, he married a vigneron's daughter. Jean-Marc planted his first vines in 1973 in the village of Préhly, the birth year of his son and now vineyard manager, Julien. Jean-Marc says "The truth of wine lies in the soil where it has grown."

TASTING NOTES

Aromas of lemon with hints of pepper, spice, and toasted notes. These aromas lend to the palate along with flavour of liquorice and buttery brioche. Serve with seafood, shellfish, and white meat, either grilled or in a cream sauce.

PRODUCT NOTES

The Chablis Grand Cru Valmur forms a valley which offers subtle variations in terms of exposure: one part faces Northwest and the other the South. With a well-balanced mineral character, the Valmur imposes strength and surprising fruitiness into the wine.
