Brunello di Montalcino Piero 2019

JEB DUNNUCK

94 POINTS

Deep magenta/purple in color, the 2019 Brunello Di Montalcino Piero needs air on opening and is forward with tarry aromas that mask the wine underneath, revealing notes of black plum, violets, and licorice. Approachable and rounded, this full-bodied Brunello has a silky texture, plush tannins, and a long finish. Quite attractive, it will benefit from a decant if opening any time soon, but it should have a lot to offer in the coming 10-15 years.

About Jeb Dunnuck

The JebDunnuck.com website is a subscription based, bi-monthly publication dedicated to providing cutting-edge, independent commentary and reviews on the top wines and wine regions of the world. While my core editorial focus is to cover Southern France, Bordeaux, California and Washington, I also plan to give readers periodic articles on other world-class and emerging global wine regions, as well as in-depth coverage on the wine portfolios of top US importers.
