97 POINTS

“According to the winemaker Alejandro Vigil, the name Mundus Bacillus comes from the bacterial world that exists in that small 1.4-hectare piece of vineyard, Lot 3 of the Adrianna Vineyard, 1,400 meters above sea level in the north of the Uco Valley. The symbiosis of that molecular world with the roots in a soil with a strong calcareous component yields a wine with a firm texture, saline acidity, and chalky tannins. But there's also the cold year (in the context of Uco) and the mountain climate to consider, which have transformed the flavors here, leaving a sensation of intense red fruits in what may be the reddest and freshest Mundus that we have ever tasted, perhaps similar to that of 2016.”

About Descorchados

Descorchados is the main reference for South American wines. Since 1999, this guide has been analyzing the wine scene in this part of the world, giving consumers and trade an overview of what Argentina, Chile and Uruguay produce, from the most expensive to the cheapest wines; from big wine companies to tiny artisanal producers. In order to expand our coverage, this year we have included the sparkling wines from Brazil, an amazing journey you must taste.
